

Assessment Decision

Our state supreme court Monday upheld the right of counties to employ professional property appraisers in the campaign to reassess property for tax purposes which is under way in many Arkansas counties today.

The reassessment program was the most important piece of legislation enacted by the 1955 General Assembly, but its effectiveness would have been cut to pieces had the court refused to uphold the validity of the employment of independent appraisers. The fact is that Arkansas still operates with ineffective assessors who may or may not be qualified judges of property values, but who in any event are at the mercy of the least public-minded voters each time Election Day rolls around.

Therefore it was obvious that the best way to carry out the reassessment program authorized by the 1955 legislature was to contract for the appraisal work with men of known professional experience. This was a brand new development in local government in Arkansas, but since it originated with and was approved by the leaders of the local communities throughout the state it could hardly be called illegal, since the power to tax property is inherent at the local level throughout all America — a position upheld by the state's high court Monday.

The decision clears the way for a practical and continuing property valuation program which will be just to all citizens and helpful to the schools and local government. Those who chafe after dream dollars at the state level, urging increases in the sales and other state taxes, will be hard put to explain their interest in the schools as being genuine if they fail first to support the property reassessment program.

Good works, like charity, begin at home.

N. P. O'Neal

No one loved a public battle more than N. P. O'Neal, with whom this writer churned up the English language from time to time, but the intensity of his feeling was matched by practical mind and a generous purse.

The record shows that Mr. O'Neal was a moving spirit and a financial contributor in almost every good and worthwhile program here from the time of his arrival in 1910 until his closing years. His varied interests ranged from his church to good roads and scientific farming.

The very earliest road movement in Arkansas was the Bankhead Highway organization, and he was one of the commissioners. This group brought present U. S. 67 out of the mud and made it a gravel highway a generation ago.

Mr. O'Neal had a deep interest in perfecting farm practices and machinery. He personally operated an experimental farm here in conjunction with the Missouri Pacific Railroad, and had an important role in persuading the University of Arkansas to locate its Fruit & Truck Branch Experiment Station east of Hope more than 30 years ago.

Until recent years The Star obtained its official weather data from Mr. O'Neal, whose accomplishments included that of being an approved reporter for the U. S. Weather Bureau.

He had an alert and incisive mind which he applied every day of his life to his business — brick-making. His pride in occupation and product was monumental. One day he got on me hard. I had spotted a reference to his business as being "Brick Works" and asked him which was correct.

"Brick Works," he snapped, "Brick and work — anything wrong with that?"

He left me red-faced — as he left many another man.

And every one of us will miss him.

Russia Ignores Invitation to Chief of Staff

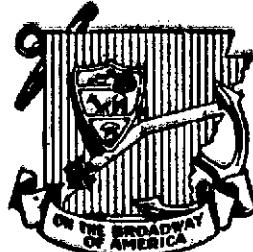

BY WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—Moscow has ignored a broad hint from Washington that it would welcome an invitation to the Joint Chiefs of Staff to visit Russia.

The Russians did send a formal invitation to one of the Joint Chiefs, Air Force Gen. Nathan F. Twining, to attend Soviet Aviation Day ceremonies in Moscow June 24. Announcing receipt of the invitation last night, the Air Force said it is under consideration.

When word of this forthcoming invitation got out last Thursday, both the Pentagon and the White House hinted strongly that the Joint Chiefs of Staff would accept if they were invited to Russia. They include the chiefs of staff of the Army, Navy and Air Force and a chairman, Adm. Arthur W. Radford.

When the formal invitation was delivered by Soviet Embassy aides yesterday, however, it did not cover all the Joint Chiefs, but only Twining.

New Farm Bill Signed Into a Law by Ike

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration moved today to put the new farm law into effect, but it may be days before farmers will know what benefits they can expect from it this year.

President Eisenhower signed the measure late yesterday, saying that it had shortcomings but that its advantages outweighed its "harmful provisions."

Thus ended more than a year of maneuvering between his administration and the Democratic leadership of Congress, with some Republican backing, over new farm legislation.

The law carries provisions for a $1,200,000,000-a-year soil bank program, but just how much of the money may be made available this crop year is a matter which will be determined by decisions to be made by the House and Senate.

Southland Hopes to Race Next Fall

WEST MEMPHIS (AP)—Southland Racing Corp. has told its stockholders that it hopes to conduct 80 days of racing at its controversial dog track here next fall.

The Memphis Commercial Appeal first reported mailing of a folder from New York telling of the proposed meeting.

Cecil Ray Edmonds, Southland president, said the folder was mailed in answer to queries from stockholders on current status of the track.

"We're telling them we hope to run this fall," Edmonds said.

The Commercial Appeal said the folder from New York telling of Southland racing franchise was involved in a still-unsettled court case but related that no spring meeting was held because the million dollar plant had been damaged by wind.

Hope Squadron of CAP Gets Its Charter

Hope Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, has been granted an organizational charter by the National Board of CAP. The local unit is now authorized to perform all acts incident to the accomplishment of the Civil Air Patrol mission.

The several phases of the CAP mission include the promotion of civilian aviation, the coordination between the military and civilian components of aviation, the Cadet program for youth, and search and rescue for missing aircraft, as well as other missions conducted in cooperation with the USAF or local agencies.

One recent activity was a flying mission designed to test the effectiveness of the Ground Observers Corps and the radar warning system. Opportunities open to Cadets include the Summer Encampment, Jet Orientation program, National and International Drill Competition, and International Cadet Exchange.

Arkansas Wing, CAP, has recently won national recognition for holding the first Cadet Conference, in Conway earlier this month. This conference was highly successful, and was very favorably looked upon by the National Headquarters.

Civil Air Patrol is being featured this month with an article in National Geographic Magazine. The local unit meets at Hope Airfield on Sunday afternoons.

Writer Finds If You Are Born in Mountains You Can't Put Them Out of Your Heart, Soul

SILVA, N. C. (AP)—Many men who dream a big dream and make it come true learn to their surprise that it isn't what they really wanted after all.

But what can they do? Most remain embittered prisoners of a phantom success they no longer enjoy but are afraid to give up his hard-won position at the peak and fight back down the rocky road he has traveled in order to regain something finer he lost earlier on the way up.

Such a man is John Parris, the only reporter I can name offhand who covers his beat in his own Cadillac.

John's ancestors journeyed from the coastal plain into the mountains of western North Carolina along rude horse and oxcart paths shortly after the American Revolution, and the family has put its

Bodettes Sing at Regular Lions Meeting

Kinard Young was in charge of the program at the regular Lions Club Meeting Monday noon, and presented Mrs. Thomas Silvey and the "Bodettes."

Miss Elizabeth Butler and Miss LaDon Ward form the duet, and they have appeared on many radio and television stations since they began singing.

Selections given included, "Muskrat Ramble," "Ivory Tower," "It's Almost Tomorrow," "24 Hours A Day," and Miss Ward sang a solo, "Razle Dazle." The "Bodettes" are available for specialty engagements and have been invited to sing at the Lions Club Ladies Night.

OSI Seeks to Exceed Power, Lawman Says

By LEWIS GULI C

WASHINGTON (AP) Rep. Moss (D-Calif.) said today the partial unveiling of a secret order shows the Office of Strategic Information "planned to go far beyond its authority" and restrict the flow of information from federal agencies.

Moss, chairman of a House Government Operations subcommittee seeking release of more government information, accused the OSI of an "attempted power grab" as he made public part of a secret directive.

The order by the National Security Council, the government's top strategy group, dealt with internal security matters. Part of the directive ordered the Commerce Department to set up the OSI.

Public Urged to Help Fight Cancer

Last year the American Cancer Society could grant scientists only two of every three dollars they needed for research.

More facilities are needed to provide the best in diagnosis and treatment for the needy cancer patient.

While knowledge about cancer is improving, about 40% of the people in a recent opinion survey could not name even one of cancer's danger signals. Only one in three had had a checkup for cancer.

The fight against cancer is expanding vigorously. With the increase of contributions, the tempo of the attack mounts. As more money is given, there is more research, better service for patients, more effective education.

Today half of those who have cancer could and should be saved by early diagnosis and prompt, adequate treatment. Hemstead county needs $500 to complete the quota of $1500. Mail your check today to: Cancer Drive, Postmaster, Hope, Arkansas.

Judge Doesn't Have to Live in City

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A candidate for municipal judge in Arkansas does not have to live in the city in which the office is located, an opinion from the attorney general's office said today.

The opinion said that Act 36 of 1953 provides for county-wide election of municipal judges, therefore any otherwise qualified candidate of the county involved may run for the office.

The opinion went to Justice of the Peace George Smith in Clarksville.

Other qualifications for municipal judge include two years residency in Arkansas, six years of law practice and a current license, good moral character and 25 years of age or older.

He did. Before he was 23 he was writing daily feature articles out of New York for a news agency.

But more distant fields called. John went to London during the blitz raids. He landed as a war correspondent with the initial Allied forces that invaded Africa on Nov. 8, 1942.

After the war, John returned to New York, became a diplomatic correspondent for the Associated Press and covered the birth and development of the United Nations.

Expansion of Atom Weapons Urged by Ike

WASHINGTON (UP) President Eisenhower asked Congress today to authorize an expansion of the atomic energy program to produce more weapons and also to expand its peaceful uses.

The President specifically asked Congress to authorize a program to cost $112,500,000 during fiscal 1957, which starts July 1.

The White House, in announcing a request for supplemental funds for the Atomic Energy commission, said some of the money would be used on "design, development, testing and production of weapons and the development of military propulsion reactors."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said some funds also would be used "on an accelerated program" in the development of civilian atomic power reactors.

He said funds also are being sought for plant acquisition and construction needed to provide additional facilities for the expanded military and civilian reactor program.

The money is required so the United States can take advantage of the "recent technological advances in the military part of the program," Hagerty added.

Farm Housing Loans Now Available

W. M. Sparks, County Supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration, said today that loan funds are now available for making Farm Housing loans.

Funds for these loans were provided by a second appropriation Act recommended and approved by President Eisenhower. An appropriation of $5,000,000 has been approved to carry on this program through June 30, 1956. The Farmers Home Administration made similar loans several years ago, but no funds have been available recently.

The purpose is to provide decent, safe and sanitary farm dwellings and other essential farm buildings to farm owners who cannot obtain the credit they need from other sources.

The County Supervisor said that loan funds may be used to construct, improve, alter, replace, or repair dwelling or other building essential to the operation of the farm, and may include funds to provide water for farmstead and household use.

In order to be eligible for a Farm Housing loan an applicant must be the owner of a farm which will produce a substantial part of the operator's annual cash income and is large enough to be considered a farm; have sufficient farm and other income to pay farm operating and family living expenses, and meet payments on existing debts including the proposed farm housing loan; have the ability, and experience necessary to carry out planned farming operations and other housing loan requirements; and be a citizen of the United States, and satisfy the county committee and loan approval official that he will do his best to meet all farm housing loan obligations.

Mr. Sparks said that the interest rate is 4 per cent per year on the unpaid principal. Loans are scheduled for repayment within the shortest time consistent with the borrowers' ability to repay. In no case will be repayment period exceed 33 years. Each loan will be adequately secured by a mortgage on the farm, subject to any existing prior liens, and by such additional real estate security as may be necessary to reasonably protect the Government's investment. Applicants will be expected to obtain the building plans and specifications for the improvements to be financed with the farm housing loan. The Farmers Home Administration will review the plans and inspect the construction as it progresses to assist the borrower in obtaining construction that meets the generally accepted standards of soundness.

The County Supervisor stated that based on previous experience he expects the demand will be great for this type service. Applications for farm housing loans should be made at the county Farmers Home Administration office serving the area in which the applicant owns, and expects to improve, his farm. The County FHA Office for Hempstead County is located in the Courthouse, on the fourth floor, Hope, Arkansas.

Idle Workers Must Pay Tax on Income

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government ruled today that idle workers must pay federal income tax on new supplementary unemployment benefits.

Russell C. Harrington, internal revenue commissioner, ruled however that the benefits, due to be started June 1 by major auto producers, are not to be treated as wages, subject either to withholding or social security taxes.

The ruling means that unemployed workers will receive their privately financed "SUB" payments, supplementing their state unemployment compensation benefits, in full without being reduced by various withholding taxes. But the employee will have to report them as nonwage income on his annual return.

"SUB" plans negotiated by the United Auto Workers Union with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler motor companies are to go into effect Friday. The SUB plans are designed to supplement the state UC system to provide employees with up to 65 per cent of take home pay for their first four weeks of unemployment, 80 per cent for the next 22 weeks of possible joblessness.

Well over a million employees are covered by such SUB plans in the auto and other industries.

Library Has Run on Top Sports Books

With the baseball season just getting underway, the Hempstead County Library has had a surge of interest in books on all aspects of the sport.

Especially in demand are practical books on how to play a better game. Some of the titles available are "Play Ball!" and "The Real Book About Baseball."

Books are available on the various ball clubs in the Major Leagues and the "The World Series and Highlights of Baseball."

Individual team histories such as "The New York Dodgers," "The Cleveland Indians," "The Washington Senators," and "The Chicago White Sox" are available.

Biographies of famous players, including Babe Ruth, Stan Musial, Joe DiMaggio and Ty Cobb, can also be obtained.

Facts and figures about baseball are available in such reference books as "The 1956 Baseball Almanac," "The Official Encyclopedia of Baseball," "The Encyclopedia of Sports," and "The World Series and Highlights of Baseball."

The history of the sport in America is found in Frederick Lieb's "The Baseball Story."

Books on the Little League include "The Official Encyclopedia of Little League Baseball," "Little League Champions," and "Little League Catcher."

Arabs Cold to Continuance of Peace Work

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—An Arab chill settled today around British Foreign Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's continued work for peace between Israel and its Arab neighbors.

The 11-nation Security Council opens debate on the British resolution today in its first meeting since it sent the secretary general on his Middle East peace mission two months ago.

The council first will hear Hammarskjöld's report on how he obtained new ceasefire agreements from Israel and her four Arab neighbors: Egypt, Syria, Jordan and Lebanon.

These quieted down Israeli border warfare, which had built up in violence throughout the late winter.

Four Additional Soviet Officials Are Executed

MOSCOW (AP)—The former Prime Minister of Azerbaijan and three other top officials of that Caucasian Republic have been executed for treason and counterrevolutionary activity, it was disclosed today.

The four officials were accused of being accomplices of former Soviet police boss Lavrenty Beria. The newspaper Baku Worker, which reached Moscow today, said they had been charged with "terroristic acts."

The chief defendant in the trials, which the newspaper said was held publicly in Baku between April 12 and April 26, was identified as M. D. Bagirov, former secretary of the Azerbaijan Communist party, the chairman of the council of Ministers of the Azerbaijan Republic.

Bagirov was made an alternate member of the Presidium of the Communist party of the Soviet Union in March, 1953, immediately after Stalin's death.

But Bagirov, long considered in the Soviet Union to be a close collaborator of Beria, fell a few weeks after Beria himself was arrested.

On July 8, 1953 Moscow radio announced that he had been dismissed as premier of Azerbaijan. The public announcement of his removal at that time did not connect him with Beria—but simply said he had been guilty of gross bureaucracy.

Father Kills Son Over Use of Automobile

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police say a two-day-old quarrel between a father and his son over use of an automobile, they owned jointly, resulted last night in the fatal shooting of the son.

Officers said Charles Miller Jr., 23, was shot to death as he scuffled with his father Charles Sr., 49, over a gun which the father said he had fired once into the floor. The shooting occurred in the elder Miller's home, next door to a bait and sporting goods shop he and his son operated in suburban reading.

Reading police ordered the father held without charge pending a further investigation.

Patrolmen said the father wept as he told them he and his son had quarreled two days about the automobile. He said his son then quit the bait shop yesterday but returned last night to get money due him.

The quarrel started again and police said they were told the elder Miller ordered his son out of the house and then went into the store. He returned a few minutes later with a gun, the officers said.

Police said the father kept repeating, "What made me do it? Lord knows I didn't mean to kill him. Why didn't he kill me?"

Missouri Goes for Symington

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Missouri's 38 votes in the Democratic nominating convention were showered on Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo). He responded yesterday with a drumfire at Eisenhower defense policies.

"It's becoming clear we are not in a position to defend this country properly if attacked," he told the Missouri Democratic convention.

He said the Eisenhower administration's goal is "the second best air force."

Dog Fails Sentry Duty for Gamblers

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—A German shepherd dog failed as a sentry for a gambling game today, beguiled by some hamburger tossed by two raiding police officers.

L. Cedell Mosely and Detective Curtis Smith said they started to raid a shed in the rear of a home here when the dog blocked their way. The animal was on a long chain, permitting it to patrol a wide area.

Then out came the fresh hamburger and in went the officers, who said they found 15 men playing cards. Police said they arrested two men and said they admitted operating the game.

Confirmation of Seaton Is Certain

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—Swift Senate confirmation appeared assured today for Fred A. Seaton to be secretary of the interior in President Eisenhower's Cabinet.

Seaton, a 46-year-old Nebraska newspaper and radio executive, has been on the White House staff as deputy assistant to Eisenhower in charge of administrative affairs.

His selection for the Cabinet post, announced by the White House late yesterday, occasioned some surprise. Fourteen Western Republican senators had publicly backed Undersecretary of the Interior Clarence A. Davis to succeed Douglas McKay. McKay resigned April 15 to run for the Senate against Sen. Morse (D-Ore).

Morse's colleague Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) contended that Eisenhower had "repudiated" the policies of ex-Secretary McKay" by going into the "discredited" Interior Department to obtain a new head."

Moderates in Italy Hold Vote Lead

ROME (AP)—Italy's moderate center parties held a lead of more than a million votes today over their opponents of the extreme left and right as the ballot count in the nationwide provincial elections reached the halfway point.

The counting for city and town councilmen lagged far behind, but there to the pro-Western center forces were ahead of the opposition.

However, the Communists and their Socialist allies appeared to be winning back control of the big port city of Genoa, which they lost in 1951. They also gained heavily to hold on to the big industrial center of Bologna.

In general the total vote was splitting among the parties about as it had in the 1951-52 local elections. The election was the first in Western Europe since Moscow launched its policy of coexistence anti-Stalinism, but the Kremlin's switch appeared to have had little effect on the Italian Reds' strength over the nation.

Woman Sues MOP for $25,000

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A 31-year-old Pine Bluff woman, Mrs. Lois Johnson Faucett, today filed a $25,000 personal injury suit in federal court against the Missouri Pacific Railroad.

The complaint charged negligence on the railroad's part for failing to signal motorists properly at the Fourth and Main crossing in Pine Bluff.

The suit said that no whistle was sounded and no flagman was present when the train struck her car.

Passage of Big Highway Bill Seems Certain

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate reaches the voting stage today on the mammoth highway construction bill which would inaugurate the biggest peacetime public works program in the nation's history.

Passage of the bill was expected by afternoon or night. Afterwards, the bill must go to a conference with the House to work out a compromise version.

As passed by the House, the bill calls for $4 billion dollars in federal-state road construction over a 13-year period.

The measure before the Senate would authorize $7 billion in federal-state outlays. It provides for a 13-year program to develop a 40,000-mile interstate system equipped to handle up-to-date traffic. Spending for the other three federal aid systems — primary farm-to-market and urban — would be authorized only five years ahead.

The House measure would provide about $14,800,000,000 in highway user taxes over 18 years to help pay for the program. The Senate version would cut this down to $14,500,000,000.

Bus Boycott Hits Second Big City

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A second round of Southern capital has been hit by a boycott of Negro bus riders stemming from a dispute over segregated seating arrangements. Some students at Florida A&M University for Negroes began walking yesterday in protest against the arrest of two Negro girl students for refusing to move to the rear of a Cities Transit Co. bus.

The Rev. C. K. Steele, president of the Tallahassee chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said without elaborating that the boycott "will be continued beyond the university campus."

Charles L. Carter, manager of the transit firm, said last night, however, his company had experienced no general effects from any boycott.

Bodies of Two Chinese Are Found

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A Negro employe found the mutilated bodies of a Chinese laundryman and his beautiful 19-year-old stepdaughter at their residence today.

The victim's dog lay dead a few feet from the bodies. Police said they found a brick inches away from the head of Tom Yuen, 58, operator of a laundry in the front of the residence.

The officers said they discovered a butcher knife under the body of the girl, Eula Mae Smith, a telephone company employe.

The bodies were sprawled between the bathroom and a bedroom of the residence. The floor was covered with blood.

Police did not classify the deaths immediately. The officers said Yuen's car was missing.

Investigators said the victims had been slashed about the eyes, neck and top of the head. Yuen, who reared his stepdaughter since she was two apparently died first, police said. The stepdaughter, who was preparing to be married to a service man, known only as "Johnny," had been last seen in a neighborhood drugstore last night.

The bodies were found by Hazel Woodling, Negro, an employe of Yuen's.

New Farm Bill

He made by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Benson, who said he was glad Eisenhower approved the measure, said his department is "proceeding with judicious haste" to put the soil bank plan into effect this year. Under this program, farmers will be offered payments for taking land out of production of surplus crops.

The new law is the second farm measure passed by Congress this year. The first one was voted by Eisenhower April 6 because it carried provisions which would have raised price supports of some crops and products above levels favored by the administration.

Benson said in a statement last night that his year will not provide "a fair test" of the soil bank because practically all crops have been planted. Eisenhower expressed regret that the soil bank had not been enacted earlier.

Nevertheless, soil bank money could be made available to a relatively large acreage if Benson offered liberal conditions. If he should limit participation this year to land intended for cotton, wheat, peanuts, rice, tobacco and corn but not yet planted, the participation would be limited and the total payments small.

BY GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new farm bill which Congress has sent to the White House sets up a 2-price plan for rice — but there's some doubt among rice state congressmen it will be tried out by the administration.

The rice plan is to become effective only at the discretion of the secretary of agriculture.

President Eisenhower, in vetoing the first farm bill several weeks ago, objected to 2-price plans for farm commodities. This led some Southerners to conclude that the present administration, likely would take no steps to implement the program.

However, Sen. Ellender (D-La.) took the view that the President, in vetoing the first bill, tossed in all objections he could find to the measure and that his primary objection was to a 2-price plan for wheat, rather than for rice. Since the new bill confines the plan to rice, Ellender said, he believes the administration might not object to it.

Ellender's view is that there has been some sentiment in the Department of Agriculture to try out a 2-price plan and rice would offer the best opportunity for a test since it is a relatively small crop and grown in only a few states.

As set up in the bill, a 2-price plan for rice could be tried out only in 1957 and 1958 or 1959. It would be a 2-year trial run.

Of somewhat more immediate importance to rice growers is the provision in the bill fixing the 1957 and 1958 national rice acreage allotments at the 1956 level. This means rice growers will take no further acreage cuts in the next two years.

The bill does not deal with support prices for rice, which under existing law are set at between 75 per cent and 90 per cent of parity. The administration already has announced the 1956 crop will be supported at 82½ per cent of parity.

The 2-price plan for rice in the new farm bill is the same as that in the vetoed bill except that it makes it effective for only two years and then only when the secretary "determines and program x x x is administratively feasible and in the best interests of rice producers and the United States."

Under the 2-price plan the rice grower would get his acreage allotment as now. In addition he would be given a pro rata share of the primary rice market — the rice consumed domestically and exported to Cuba. His share of the primary market would be considerably less than he would raise on his acreage allotment.

After determining the primary market the secretary of agriculture would set a support price for rice at a figure he believes would encourage export of rice. This would be somewhere between 50 and 90 per cent of parity.

After determining the primary market the secretary of agriculture would set a support price for rice at a figure he believes would encourage export of rice. This would be somewhere between 50 and 90 per cent of parity.

Under the 2-price plan the rice grower would get his acreage allotment as now. In addition he would be given a pro rata share of the primary rice market — the rice consumed domestically and exported to Cuba. His share of the primary market would be considerably less than he would raise on his acreage allotment.

Labor Level Unequaled in History

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The working man, in the words of Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell "has a level of well being unequaled in history" — thanks to the Eisenhower administration.

President Eisenhower's "hand-picked executives" have reduced spending, cut taxes and removed "oppressive controls from the economy" the secretary told a $100-a-plate Republican dinner last night.

"The beneficiaries of this sound and workable policy are America's 65 million wage earners," he asserted.

He said that between 1944 and 1952 when the Democrats were in power, workers were given the impression that they were getting an average wage increase of $21.89 a week. However, Mitchell contends, the real spendable weekly earnings of a single man dropped $3.8 a week because of inflation and taxes. But now, on an average weekly wage of between $78 and $80 a week, "the worker has received a clear gain of about $8" since 1952, he contended.

The labor secretary said the Eisenhower administration has engineered a legislative program which has extended social security to 10 million additional workers and has benefited another two million by increasing the federal minimum wage to a dollar an hour.

DOROTHY DIX

Clergyman Will Help Is Pin Worth It? He's a Fire Hazard

Dear Dorothy Dix: I enjoy your daily column very much and have something to add that might be of help. I know my thoughts are shared by many others in my position. I am a young minister and note that you often urge troubled people to contact their pastors. Why is it that we are the last persons to be consulted with personal problems? If folks would only see that not only is it our job, it is our very life. We receive great blessings from helping others and I am sure we'd make life easier for those who would come to us.

J. J.
Dear J. J.: Thanks so much for vindicating one of my pet premises — namely, that clergymen are ready, willing and capable of giving assistance in times of stress. More than one reader has taken me to task for my conviction, saying that pastors had enough to do without listening to everyone's troubles. I cannot believe that any minister, priest or rabbi would turn a deaf ear to the trials and tribulations of one of his flock. He has dedicated his life to the service of God, he has been trained to teach the word of God. What greater fulfillment can he make of his talents than to give them to people in distress who don't know where to turn?

Perhaps people avoid seeking help from their clergymen because of embarrassment; they feel freer to discuss problems with a stranger. This is merely foolish pride, dear reader. Your pastor can talk with you and see your problem first, your personality second. If necessary, he can forget you as a person and consider only your trouble. Rarely, indeed, you leave his presence without the feeling that at least you have set about constructively solving your problem, no matter what it is. Take your troubles to God, through your spiritual advisor.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have been going with a college man for five months and he has asked me to wear his fraternity pin. I don't know what to do because he is so lazy and shiftless. He barely gets treat me very nice when he's drinking. BRENDA
Dear Brenda: A gal must certainly want a fraternity pin very much to take this heel with it. Better stick to safety pins from a reliable source. Your no-good college man won't be on the campus much longer, anyhow.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband who is of normal intelligence, absolutely refuses to quit smoking in bed. I have tried everything, even hiding his cigarettes at night, to no avail. Every week we hear of fires caused by this same thing, but they have no effect on him. I don't feel I'm worrying unduly about this, because he often falls asleep with a lighted cigarette and our bedclothes have many a hole burned in them. MIDGE
Dear Midge: Correction, please. Your husband is not a man of average intelligence; he's pretty darn dumb. I can only offer this suggestion. Buy the loudest fire alarm and the biggest extinguisher you can find. Pay your fire insurance premiums promptly, and memorize the number of the local fire department. You'll need 'em all.

THE STORY: Three people have asked Emmett Cash why he returned to Cashtown. Frank Ude, who is with Cash, believes Emmett is a trouble maker, probably a horse thief. While Frank and Emmett are in a severely burned and is taken to Dr. La Tour.

Chapter VIII
Dr. La Tour dropped his glance to Juan. The callousness ran out of his face. He said, "Bring him inside, gentlemen."

Frank Ude was certain Yates had been brought to the doctor with his gunshot arm. Considering the fact that Emmett was stealing horses from this range put the doctor in a bad spot. He would be honor bound to notify the sheriff of Yates' condition, and as Frank weighed the man and his relationship with Emmett he decided La Tour hadn't reported that gun-Yates under arrest, at least until ben expecting it. Now he knew for sure. He compared the modeling of their cheekbones, of their eyes and their mouths. He was struck by the undeniable similarity. Yet Emmett was so aggressive, so virile in his laughter, so virile with his flame-red hair. And Jean had been so dark, with soft blue-gray eyes and fine skin and features that seemed fine as Emmett's were coarse.

A bristling curse came from Emmett. He said swiftly, "Follow me, Frank. We're pulling out." He faded into the rear quarters of La Tour's apartment still looking toward Frank. But Frank remained in the office with his mind made up to see this through.

When Jean came into the room she dropped to her knees beside the couch. The cook tried to smile but he was lashed too deeply by pain. He murmured something but his words were too low for Frank to catch. "Was it really Emmett?" Frank heard Jean demand. The cook's eyes shifted the smallest degree. Jean lifted her glance to Frank and asked presently:

"You brought him here?" "With others' help."

"Was it my brother?" Frank let a moment slide following icy drafts along his spine. "I'm not sure I know your brother," he said and saw Jean flush slightly.

La Tour spoke up at this point. He saw the deadlock between them and wisely broke it. "Look, Senorita Cash, you ain't out on the Rafter C. Suppose you shuffle and let me look after my patient."

She said, "Doc, if you hurt Juan, I'm coming back and out off your ears." Doc snapped his tongue against the roof of his mouth. "Well, I've sewed plenty of them back to men's heads in my time. Now hightail out of here for a spell. A nip of brandy in his belly and a little lard on his chest is apt to make a new man of Juan Lopez."

"Mind, Doc," she said with caustic brightness touching her voice. "I don't want Juan to suffer." She arose from beside the couch, coming toward Frank. As he looked at the clean, sharp outline of her face he recalled Emmett's anger on leaving this room. There was something unhealthy about it, something rank. This was the kind of outfit he had thrown in with. The thought sobered him.

Jean laid her hand lightly against his forearm, her lips softening. "Doc doesn't want me around. You and I should talk."

They walked through the red painted-carpeted hallway to the front entrance. Frank was conscious of the strange quickening of his pulse. He knew why he had read character into Jean. They stepped to the veranda where they caught the sheriff with one foot lifted to the steps. Here Chantry paused staring at Jean. There was a moment of indecision, while Chantry made up his mind. It was Jean, who shook her head slowly side-to-side. From this Frank decided she was telling the lawman her brother wasn't inside.

"Been tied up with other matters," he told her gently. "Just found out about the fire."

"Juan is going to be all right. Nothing we can do, Lew, that George La Tour won't tend to."

"That's right," Chantry agreed and stepped back to the walk. His gaze shifted to Frank letting Frank feel the weight of appraisal. It was the second time the sheriff had taken his measure, and Chantry was still not satisfied. (To Be Continued)

The auto industry uses about 65 per cent of all upholstery leather produced in the United States.

ACORN MEAL

Wide usage of acorns as human food prevailed during pioneer days. Meal from them was leached with hot water to remove the lannic bitterness.

A TRIBUTE TO MEMORIAL DAY!

Across the nation men and women in all walks of life visit the graves of loved ones who sleep in eternal serenity. Silently they place wreaths of lovely, living flowers on the resting places of their departed loved ones: trees are in blossom all around... and the world of work and worry seems far, far away. Let us all set aside this occasion for deep contemplation, and be genuinely grateful that we are here to carry on the great traditions of our blessed land. It's Memorial Day. Make it a point to do your personal "remembering".

Echoes From St. Luke Baptist Church
Although our church building at Sheppard has been torn down for rebuilding, we are having services in the Mt. Sinai C. M. E. Church at Water's Crossing. The Pastor and the Official staff sent to us a written welcome to use their church for worship until we can move into our new building.

The Baptist Church at Sprudell sent us a similar welcome.

Sunday morning after a very interesting Sunday School, we had a very large crowd of earnest worshippers. Rev. West from Sprudell, delivered the morning message, which was supplemented by the Pastor.

Mrs. Aretha Gates, Mr. and Mrs.
Clay, Mr. and Mrs. Simmons, and Mrs. Hampton of Chicago, Illinois visited our service.

On the Fourth Sunday afternoon in June, we are holding a "Building

Strafaci Loses Seventh Bid

TROON, Scotland, (UP) —Frank Strafaci of Garden City, N. Y., making his seventh bid for the British Amateur Golf championship, was ousted by Dr. Frank Deighton of Scotland in a second round match today, 3 and 2.

Defending Champion Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., an easy winner in the second round yesterday when the six-day match play grid began, met Tom Armstrong of Scotland after lunch today.

Lieut. Joe Golden of Austin, Tex., an Air Force officer stationed in England, was the first American winner today. He gained the third round by defeating Michael Bonallack of England, 2 and 1.

Strafaci, seven-time winner of the Metropolitan New York amateur championship, scrambled to a 1 up triumph over England's Keith Tate yesterday. But Deighton, a British Walker Cupper, shattered the New Yorker's latest bid for the British crown this morning on the 6,583-yard Troon course.

Rain Fails to Hamper Plans for Speedway

By ED SAINSBURY

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP) — speedway officials indicated today the annual 500-mile Memorial Day auto race will begin as scheduled tomorrow despite heavy rains which flooded the grounds and kept 13 cars from attempting qualifying runs.

"Our plans call for the race
Wednesday," Speedway Publicity Chief A. Bloemker said. "We believe we can get the grounds in condition and that the track will be up to par."

Tony Hulman Jr., owner of the track, said that preparations were going on to start the grind on time and that postponement was not being considered.

It appeared that the only development which could cause postponement of the $275,000 chase would be more heavy rains today, and forecasters expected only the possibility of thundershowers.

A five-inch rain which began Saturday evening, continued through Sunday to permit only 57 minutes of time trials in which five cars qualified. Additional downpours Monday kept the grounds under water two feet deep in spots and left the racing strip spotty with puddles.

The U. S. Auto Club, directing the race, ruled against further qualification runs. Late in the day the track was clear except for a stretch about 125 feet wide at the north end of the home stretch, where water seeped through the bricks and through the joints in the wall on the outside of the track.

The 13 cars, including an Italian Ferrari to be driven by Mike Far-ina and Novi piloted by Eddie Russo, were lined up on the apron most of the day until the track closed with none making their test runs.

The fact that the Novi failed to get on the track to try for the starting field of the 33 fastest cars might change the lineup which begins the lengthy speed test tomorrow. Another Novi, driven by Paul Russo, qualified earlier at 143.546 miles an hour, but mechanic Jean Marcenac said the vehicle would be withdrawn unless Eddie Russo's car got a chance.

However, Chief Steward Harry McQuinn said that he was not notified officially of the withdrawal and that unless he was informed of it by "a person in authority," he would regard Paul Russo's car as a starter, unless it failed to come out on the track to make ready for the 11 a. m. CDT starting bomb tomorrow.

Should the Novi fail to appear, the slowest car qualified, driven by Eddie Sachs at 137.373 miles an hour, will start the chase.

Regardless of whether the Novi starts, the field Wednesday will be the fastest in speedway history.
With Paul Russo's qualifying speed in the lineup, the average pace was 142.507 mph, nearly four miles an hour faster than last year's lineup.

Long Hits 8th Homer; Yanks Increase Lead

By ED WILKS
Of The Associated Press

This, in case you hadn't noticed, is a brand new year in the National League.

A year ago, the NL went into the Memorial Day milepost strung out behind Brooklyn, with the Dodgers enjoying a six-game bulge and St. Louis and Milwaukee 11 games back. Pittsburgh, going through its regular pantomime, was 18 games to the rear and in the cellar.

That was last year. Right now Milwaukee is winning what has been a two-way scrap for the lead with St. Louis, while the Pirates are just a game back.

And where's Brooklyn? Three games back in fifth.

Milwaukee blasted the Cardinals 10-3 last night, thus removing a screw predicament that had them a length short in the "games behind" column but still in first.

Pittsburgh made it cozy by nudging the Brooks 3-2 — with Bob Friend winning his eighth on a two-hitter and Dale Long hitting his eighth home run in eight games to better his major league record set Saturday.

Bob Rush's three-hitter tripped Cincinnati as the Chicago Cubs won 4-1. Philadelphia kept the road rally for New York by beating the Giants 5-2.

In the American League, the race has the look of a romp. The New York Yankees grabbed a 4½-game lead, beating Boston 2-0 as Whitey Ford gained his seventh triumph and second shutout while the runner-up Cleveland Indians lost to Detroit 3-1.

Kansas City dumped Chicago's White Sox 8-4, a two-run homer by Enos Slaughter in the ninth, and Baltimore clipped Washington 6-5 in 10 innings.

The only hits off Friend, who has lost two, were a first-inning homer by Duke Snider and a one-out single by Junior Gilliam in the third. Carl Erskine was the loser.

Bobby Thomson and Del Crandall homered for the Braves, who chase a 6-0 lead in two frames to chase Hermon Wehmeier. Gene Conley, in relief of Lou Sleater, was the winner.

Harvey Haddix, with ace Robin Roberts relieving in the eighth, won his first for the Phils.

Roy McMillan got two hits off Rush, who fanned seven and walked one, and scored a run that stuck up until the fifth. Then the Cubs racked Joe Nuxhall for four runs — two on a bases-loaded double.

For a trouble only twice, scattered five Boston hits while the Yanks made the most of four singles off Frank Sullivan. Two in the first and an infield out by Yogi Berra, back from an eight-game stay on the injury list, scored one run. Two errors by shortstop Bob Buddin helped the other across in the fourth.

Steve Gromek eight hit the Indians while the Tigers got two runs in the fifth on Bob Kennedy's ground-rule double and a force-out to hand Herb Score his fourth defeat.

The White Sox blew a 2-0 lead as Kansas City scored four in the eighth with homers by Gus Zernial and Jim Finigan. They tied it with two in the top of the ninth. Billy Pierce went in as a reliever in the bottom of the ninth. He walked a man and then came Slaughter.

Reliever Mike Fornieles doubled in the 10th and came home with the clincher for the Orioles on Chuck Diering's single.

Vessels Plays for Colts This Year

CLEVELAND, Okla., (UP) — Billy Vessels, who was named "best" in college, Canadian pro and service football, will be a rookie in the National League this year — and he's afraid he won't make the team.

The former All - America halfback will join the Baltimore Colts in July after a 2-year hitch in the Army. He was discharged last week at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Vessels said he and other Colt rookies will begin practice July 19.
"It sounds kind of funny to be classified a rookie again, but I welcome the opportunity to get in my further out of condition than I've ever been in my life, but I'm going to start working out on my own early next month. It's going to be tough to make the Colt backfield because they have some great boys."

Although Vessels is worried about his condition, he still weighs a solid 185 pounds, the same weight he carried at Oklahoma.

In 1952, his final year under Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson, he won the Heisman Trophy as the outstanding player in college football.

The next year Vessels sparked Edmonton to the Canadian League football championship, and was voted the outstanding player in the league.

He then was inducted into the service and played for the powerful Ft. Sill Canonniers. In 1954 the Canonniers won the inter-service championship and Vessels was tabbed the outstanding gridder in service football.

Another Cannoneer and Oklahoma great, Buck McPhail, won the "best in service" honor last year. He too was discharged this year.

Cotton Defeats Joey Giardello

NEW YORK (UP) —Charley (King)
Cotton had his second straight victory over Joey Giardello, a reputation, and a few offers against more "name" fighters today.

"The breaks are finally coming my way," said the happy, 26-year-old ex-Marine from Toledo, Ohio.
"I don't care how close the officials call 'em as long as they have me ahead.

Democrats Told Not to Ignore South

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Gov. J. P. Coleman of Mississippi has warned the Democratic Party that it may suffer defeat and death if it insults convicts of the South. This was proven, the governor said yesterday, by the defeat of two North Carolina congressmen who refused to sign the Southern manifesto.

The manifesto pledged 101 congressmen to resist the U. S. Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation.

Reps. Thurmond D. Chatham and Charles B. Deane did not sign. Both were defeated for reelection Saturday in North Carolina's Democratic primary.

Coleman warned: "The action of the voters in a moderate state like North Carolina in defeating two members of Congress, because of their refusal to sign the Southern manifesto should be notice to the nation and to certain figures in the Democratic Party that the South has no intention of submitting to an unconstitutional supreme court decision.

"If efforts are made at the national convention in Chicago to insult the convictions of the South in this regard, it will probably result in the worst defeat ever suffered by the Democratic Party and could be the end of the party."

"It should be well remembered that in Nov. 1952, every state carried by Adlai Stevenson was a state operating segregated schools."

Coleman, who helped keep Mississippi in the party four years ago, calls Stevenson "our best friend to date," although he had not announced support for him.

Accidents in State Takes Lives of 19

By The Associated Press

Nine types of accidents took 19 lives in Arkansas during the week ending at midnight Sunday.

Causes of death ranged from traffic mishaps to a cave-in and included drownings, farm accidents, fire and suicide.

Highway accidents took the greatest toll—seven lives.

A 62-year-old Negro, Jim Sheppard of Calion, Ark., was injured fatally in a highway collision two miles north of El Dorado early Sunday.

Deputy Sheriff Coy Barksdale said a car driven by Sheppard and a car driven by Dr. John Kidd, 45, of Natchitoches, La., collided on Highway 107. Besides Sheppard, three others were injured—another Negro man, George Reed, who was riding with Sheppard; and Dr. Kidd and his wife.

All were taken to a hospital at El Dorado. Attendants said Reed suffered a broken back and Dr. and Mrs. Kidd were treated for minor injuries. Sheppard died about two hours after being taken to the hospital.

Late Saturday night a Fayetteville man, Charlie Dealey, suffered fatal injuries when his car apparently went out of control on an S-curve on U. S. Highway 71 near Fayetteville and was wrecked.

Police said Dealey, manager of Puriana Feed Stores in Fayetteville, died early Sunday at a Fayetteville hospital.

Other traffic deaths during the week occurred at Plainview, Jonesboro, Mt. Ida and Dumas.

Three lives were lost in farm accidents at El Dorado and at Moscow in central Arkansas. Two men died during a well cleaning operation at Cove Mountain on the Perry-Yell County line.

There were three drownings—at Batesville, Pocahontas and De Queen, a suicide at North Little Rock, a death in a fire at Brink-

Bond Set in Charge of Assault

WARREN, Ark. (AP)—Bond has been set for a 29-year-old Negro, James Bailey of Hapton, Ark., who is charged with assault with intent to kill in the shooting of a white man.

Bailey's bond was fixed at $2,000 Saturday. Bond for his wife, Annie Mae, 19, charged as an accomplice, was set at $500. Neither had posted bond.

A. G. Haygood, 35, of Warren was shot in the abdomen last Wednesday night. He was taken off the critical list at a hospital here during the weekend.

Sheriff Lee Temple said Haygood was shot when he parked his car on Highway near here and approached another parked car to offer help. The sheriff said the shot came from a parked car occupied by the two Negroes.

Bailey has told officers that a .22 caliber rifle was lying on the car seat and that he didn't pick it up.
